

James Wilson

Partner

Jim has over 30 years of experience in public and private accounting. He began his career as a CPA with 13 years in public accounting as an audit manager. His “Big 4” experience included both public and private companies.

Prior to co-founding Clearview Solutions, Jim was Director of Internal Audit for a $1.6 billion restaurant chain. In this position, Jim implemented a continuous audit program, was a resource for SEC reporting and provided senior management with creative solutions for improving operations.

In addition, Jim provided guidance to the Board of Directors on issues related to the governance of the company. Jim bridged public accounting and business, gaining an in-depth knowledge of internal control systems tempered with corporate goals and shareholder interests. Jim has a BS in Accounting from Virginia Tech.
